

RENNER CONSULTING
RENEWABLE ENERGY

Reg was trained as a Forest Technician, with an emphasis on Silviculture and forest health. He spent 33 years working for a leading reforestation company as a greenhouse grower and Nursery manager. These multiple experiences in the forest and greenhouse industry developed an interest and desire to maintain sustainable forests and use waste wood for new energy based industries.

Over the past 15 years, Reg worked for Atticus Financial of Coquitlam, BC assisting numerous clients with financing options and business development. Working with equipment suppliers and project developers gave Reg a diverse array of business experiences establishing Renner Consulting's expertise in creating technical studies, business plans and community engagement presentations. Atticus Financial was an excellent place to acquire and develop the necessary skills to become a renewable energy consultant making Renner Consulting equally skilled working independently or as a team member.
